EPNI network pricing for Indian Health Services members for Native American Tribes

CCStpa is a third-party administrator (TPA) founded in 1982 and headquartered in Eagan, Minnesota.

CCStpa provides a full range of TPA services to self-insured employers, Tribal and gaming groups with more than 51 employees. Most of CCStpa's clients are headquartered in Minnesota and many have employees in locations around the United States.

CCStpa administers medical plans for almost all of the Native American Tribes in Minnesota and a few in Wisconsin and Michigan. For their Contract Health/Indian Health Services (CHS) we are offering Employer Provider Network, Inc (EPNI) network reimbursements for professional services rendered by a participating provider.

Member ID cards

CHS-approved Tribal members will receive an EPNI Network ID card from the CHS office, along with their standard referral for specific services on the designated dates. The ID card will include information on the claim submission process and the phone number for CHS to verify eligibility and service procedures. Only services approved by CHS are eligible for the EPNI network discount and CCStpa process.
